GRAND CONCERT. COURT HOUSE, SATURDAY NIGHT.

Saturday night Court House.

Police Court.

The five crack-shooters, referred to in our last issue, were fined twenty dollars each in Judge Harris' court.

The Kentucky State Fair will be held at Louisville Ky., September 13th to 15th inclusive.

Mrs. S. A. Kemp aged 76 years died at the home of her son-in-law, Eliza Murphy, after a short illness of pneumonia. The burial occurred in the lower part of the county. She is survived by two sons.

Sunday will be a day devoted exclusively to the W. C. T. U. Sunday morning's sermon will be the life work of the late Frances E. Willard by Eld F. M. Tindler. Sunday evening a temperance lecture by the gifted Mrs. Frances Beauchamp.

Simpson-Ray.

Miss Annie Simpson and Mr. Henry Ray were married Wednesday, February 24th, at the home of the bride. These young people are highly esteemed and congratulations are in order. The Record wishes to extend their warmest wishes.

News has been received here of the death, in Goldfield Nevada, of Theodore Doty, a son of the late Mrs. Anne Doty. Mr. Doty was City Attorney of Goldfield and a lawyer of much brilliancy and learning. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Maria Belle Bassett, of Louisville, and several brothers besides quite a number of relatives in this county.

Card of Thanks.

To my friends and neighbors who were so faithful and kind during my sad bereavement, I offer my most sincere thanks. I can never forget the many kind words and letters of sympathy which I have received from you. May the blessings of God rest upon each one of them.

George Ray.

Valuable Team.

W. O. Rigney bought of J. B. Leavelle a pair of the handsomest horses in the county, for $500. They are beautiful bays, 5 and 6 years old, 16 1/2 hands high, with splendid style and action. They are ideal coach horses, and will be used by Mr. Rigney to draw his handsome Funeral Car, making one of the most attractive outfits of the kind in the whole county.

Contract Price $3,000.

The Fiscal Court, of Garrard county has contracted with Paul J. Cunniff, of St. Louis, to do some much needed repairs on the county jail. The contract price is $3,000, and the work is to be completed in sixty days. The contractor guarantees that no one can escape from this jail, after completion, within 24 hours, giving him all the tools and appliances desired. This work has been needed for some time.

Midnight Flame.

About twelve o'clock last Thursday night the handsome residence, on Mrs. Wages' farm, formerly owned by Judge J. S. Robinson, two miles from town, on the Danville road, went up in flames, incurring a loss of about $3,000 to the owner, as the house was worth about $4,500, and a policy of only $1,500 was carried on it, in the Continental Insurance company. The origin of the fire is unknown, as it was first discovered, by Mr. Nelson Marsee, who occupied the premises, near the pantry. Mr. Marsee only succeeded in saving two or three pieces of furniture. We regret to note such losses, and advise that the only remedy lies in carrying more insurance.

Withdrawal.

In view of the fact that my business relations with a firm in North Carolina, require nearly all of my time, and business at home consumes the balance, I will be unable to devote the necessary time to canvass the county in the race for the Legislature, and I reluctantly withdraw from the race.

I feel confident that I would have been successful, and am thankful to the great number of citizens who have promised me their hearty support, and I am especially thankful to the Democratic County Committee, for giving me the nomination. I make this withdrawal in time that they may make another nomination and I will cheerfully support any one they may name.

W. B. Burton.

A Mammoth Paper.

M. D. Hughes received a copy of the Seattle Sunday Times, from his son-in-law, Mr. Percy Noland. It is a special issue, celebrating its Seventh Anniversary and exploiting the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, to be held in Seattle this year. The mechanical work is superior and the reading matter and illustrations are highly instructive and entertaining. It is the largest newspaper ever published in the civilized world.

Each copy consists of 188 pages and the edition numbers 100,000 copies. The postage on a single copy is 12 cents. Each copy weighs three pounds and therefore requires 300,000 pounds of white paper to publish the same. The cost of white paper and ink in this edition exceeds $6,000. An immense crowd will attend the exposition, and see The Lion and The Mouse to-night, Friday.

THE ANTI-CHRIST OF A SELF SUNDAY.

A TALK BETWEEN TWO FRIENDS.

By Contributor.

"Sunday is my day of rest—when I'm tired!" "Altogether?" "Well—No; but it was intended as my day of rest." "Granted; but the Sabbath also has its origin in a God-given law, not only of self privilege but duty to its Giver. The supreme enactor of a law, the bestower of a benefit, the grantor of a privilege has a right to define its uses; has he not?" "Well, yes."

Then explaining its uses, as a Supreme Giver God makes it plain, that the seventh day, is for "worship of Himself",—as well as self rest. "Well what's the meaning of 'worship'?" "Literally it means 'worthful'; in every day talk—'worth while'; 'while' is a word referring to time and place; 'worth' referring to God as a value for men—both in life, time,—death, and Beyond. When you say Sunday is mine chiefly for 'my rest';—also somebody else can go to church—for worship—I'm not in it,—then you practically say—God's seventh day law for Himself—is 'not worth while: no value to me'!" "Do you mean to say, that all that God stands for, I make valueless, when I decide Sunday for my own self use, in visiting, enjoying myself &c?" "Well, my friend, to be kindly fair, you go further: You make yourself an atheist—if Sunday is only for self? An atheist?—Why that means I'm a non-believer in God; I believe there is a God, as much as you do!" Kindly, slow up; the word "atheist" is from two Greek words, "a" and "theos"; in the translation from Greek to American language—"a" is rendered "away from"; "theos", is rendered "God"; so that atheist means "away from God"—one who is invited to honor his Word and Law does not think it "worth while"; time and place no value: Self consideration the chief business."

"Yes; but I'm a free agent; doesn't the Bible teach that?" Surely! the blind tiger is a free agent; counterfeit is a free agent; the hold up of that train out in the Rockies a few nights ago, was by road agents—very free—in each case there was no law in the land." "Yes; but the old Sunday is not Christ law: Old Testament ways, are different from New Testament law of Christ."

"Well; judge fair: Christ was charged with that by some of his Jew friends; but he had the last word on that, to say 'I came not to destroy the law but to fulfill'—fulfill, meaning to make good." Therefore, he was no destroyer of seventh day law. Besides he hallowed the day in rising from the dead; made it worth honoring as Soul Emancipation Day. Do you think the Resurrection Day—is "worth while"—is "worthful"—is for "worship"? If the celebration of Washington Day, Lee Day, Lincoln Day is worth while for great leaders of one nation, how about one day in a week, for honor and remembrance of a Deliverer all Nations; Emancipator of all Races? Under not only of Time but Eternity?"

Besides, Paul says: If Resurrection Day is not worth while, then the whole gospel and church business is not worth while. Are you prepared to say so? Twenty Centuries of Christianity, fairly estimated, is no fraud. If it is, why not go back to heathenism? It has no Christ; no resurrection of just and unjust; no account for deeds done in body; the biggest man with the biggest club may do the weak man, and if he can dodge the police; no damages here or hereafter." "Yes, but didn't some of the Jews, deny resurrection day?" Some of them only; a party, called "Sadducees"—named after a leader, of that sort of name; do you prefer to honor his day, instead of Christ—Day?" "Well; well—You've waked me up a bit; how about Railroad Sunday excursion; Sunday visiting for a good time for yourself &c?" "Have hardly time to hear you; but I think it will be 'worth while', to be in the 'worship'—'next Sunday'."

Thank you, my good friend; we'll take up some more of that in another talk in the "Record".

FLOOD.

Reports of one of the heaviest rain-falls ever recorded in Kentucky were received Wednesday. The rain has been general, and every river and creek throughout the entire Commonwealth is bank full and many of them have overflowed. The damage in the Green River district and along the streams in the western part of the State is heavy. The lower Ohio is rising rapidly at all points, and a big flood is predicted. Warning has been sent out from Cincinnati that the river is expected to reach the danger point there in a short time. In Louisville, and throughout Jefferson county, the rain fall was so heavy that interurban service had to be suspended on many lines. The damage has also been great to live stock and other property. Near Louisville 250 cattle were swept to death. Many bridges have been washed away all over the country, and great damage otherwise has been entailed throughout this and other counties. Nothing like it has ever occurred with in so short a time.

Lets get up a crowd and go to Danville and see The Lion and The Mouse to-night, Friday.

OLLIE BALL OUT AGAIN.

In Again, Gone Again, Caught Again.

Homer Pollard Also Ran.

While an immense crowd thronged within a block of the county jail, little was thought that one would attempt a break for liberty at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, yet in the face of it all, Ollie Ball, who is gifted with the art of "breaking jails", with Homer Pollard, succeeded in sawing one bar into and springing another till a space 12 by 14 inches was made, through which they crawled out of the "cage".

The next obstacle for them was a large steel door, which entered into the female cell. As each inch toward liberty gave them more strength and courage, then succeeded in breaking the door entirely off of hinges.

Ran Over Mrs. Lawson.

Mrs. Lawson, who opened the female cell to put in a "trusty", who had been helping about house work, was confronted by two desperate characters. Homer Pollard pushed Mrs. Lawson away and gained the front door which leads to the street. As she gave the alarm, and before she could shut the door, Ollie Ball pushed her and said, "get out of the way, Miss Sallie, I'll catch him."

Caught Near Jackman Spring.

Running down Stanford street to Methodist church, then West toward the water works, jumping many fences, they soon gave almost out, and were captured by John Walker, whom Chief police Herron had deputized. Walker marched them to Herron, who was within a few yards of them. When Herron discovered Ball's hand in his pocket he (Herron) immediately "called him". Ball then pulled a 38 S. & W. Hammerless pistol and handed it to the Chief. Pollard was found to have a razor.

Free Ride To Jail.

Walker and Pollard on one horse and Herron and Ball on another, started again for jail. Ball said to Chief Herron "I'm not going to stay in jail, it's too close to court."

As this is Ball's second offense in breaking this jail, it looks that he may have his way.

Ball, who is charged with horse stealing, broke out of this jail in April 1907, was located in Nashville and brought back here December 22nd. Pollard is charged with forgery in three cases.

Sound Doctrine.

At the Union services at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening Eld. F. M. Tindler's report of the Anti-Saloon League Convention at Louisville, was a masterly and intensely thrilling address.

Rev. C. C. Brown's opening comments that to the biblical evils—"The World, the Flesh and the Devil" Christians are called on to combat, Kentuckians will be compelled to add a fourth overpowering menace, "The Courier Journal"; was received with appropriation and amusement.

Elder Tindler gave an account of Assistant Attorney General Trickett's speech before the convention and what he had to say in regard to his successful enforcement of law against the whiskey traffic in Kansas City, Kansas. He also spoke of his unassuming, sincere manner and the demand for Attorney Trickett's service in Florida, New Hampshire and other states in telling how he had won in the conflict for civic righteousness.

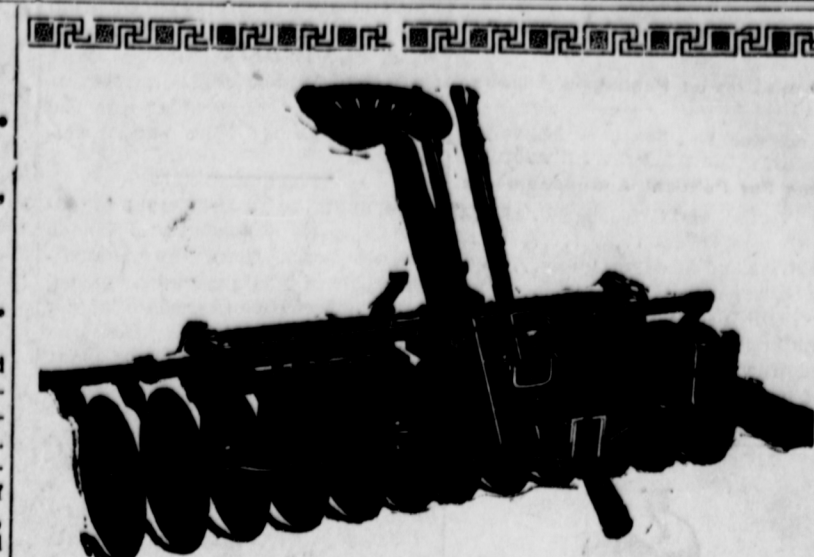

Elder Tindler also gave an impressive description of Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, of his magnificent personality and powers, used since his youth in the war-fare against the ravages of rum, and notwithstanding his strenuous efforts against the great liquor business his growth in popularity and prominence, until he was made Chief Executive of his beloved "Tar-Heel State".

He also told that Dr. Taylor a great Baptist divine and temperance worker of Virginia, stated that the Louisville convention was the most enthusiastic and forceful of any yet held by the Anti Saloon League, and that it augurs much for a great Prohibition victory in Kentucky.

Mr. Tindler closed by outlining the work planned for the coming campaign of this state and remarked that if Gov. Wilson did not grant a special term of the Legislature, that the prohibition forces along with the Anti-Saloon League will be gathered in great numbers at the Capital at the next regular term of the General Assembly and that "there will be something doing" in quiet little Frankfort that will give a mighty impetus to the onward sweep toward state wide prohibition.

The Hustonville Combination sale, which will be on March 24th and 25th, was well represented here Monday, by Dr. Drye, Chas. Lutes and B. C. Allen.

Post Master, W. T. West, informs us that there are two more opportunities for registered mail to leave Lancaster. One on train arriving at 11:29 a. m., North bound instead of 11:34 as heretofore and one on train arriving at 2:14 p. m., South bound, instead of 2:29 as heretofore.

Not All For You.

Yes, you are pretty certain to find things in the paper that you don't care for and some things that don't exactly suit you, says the Marquette (Kan.) Tribune. It is to be expected that you will and it makes no difference what paper is referred to. If the papers were gotten out solely and exclusively for you it might be arranged differently, but it is gotten out for the other several hundred as well. Do with newspapers as you would with the dinner course at the hotel—take what you want and pass up what you don't care for. It was set out for the other fellow, not all for you.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To the Democratic party of the 13th Judicial District: I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge of this district. I prefer a primary election.
M. C. SAEFLEY.

We are authorized to announce Hon. Chas. A. Hardin, of Harrodsburg, as a candidate for re-nomination for the office of Commonwealth Attorney for the 13th Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The extra session of Congress will convene March 15th, and we hope for some favorable legislation, as good impressions are generally made at the beginning of an administration.

Although W. J. Bryan was defeated and Taft gets the salary of $100,000 that he should have gotten, Mr. Bryan sees that and goes him $25,000 better, as he will get $125,000 this year for lecturing, and have a more pleasant time.

Senator Bradley was defeated in his attempt to change the rules of his party, and said that if the party can't get along without the office holders it ought to go to ruin, seeming to forget the fact that he is the biggest officer in the bunch.

Commonwealth Attorney, Franklin, when he heard of the application for the pardon of Taylor, Finley and others, very wisely said that he had engaged in one farce of that kind, before the Governor, and that he did not propose to take part in another.

After a cruise of over 42,000 miles, the American fleet has landed home and been welcomed by the President and thousands of people who are proud of it, as the safe guard of our nation, and the guarantee of protection, if assailed by other powers. The journey has demonstrated that we are at peace with the world and, yet, that we are prepared to defend ourselves in any conflict. It was a success diplomatically and nautically.

The trial of the Coopers, at Nashville, is nearing a close, and whatever the verdict may be, we do not believe that Senator Carmack's publications justified the course pursued by the defendants. We do not approve of the method of tantalizing a private citizen through the press, but, if the prosecution is right in its theory of a conspiracy, and the testimony seems to support it, the highest penalty should be imposed on the accused.

The Courier Journal apposes summary laws, and so do we, in the true meaning of the term. We do not attempt to say what a man shall eat, or wear, or how much he shall spend, so long as the public welfare is not injured. In that event, natural rights are always surrendered for general good. The law will not let us carry pistols, but we are allowed to carry bottles, which kill more men than pistols kill, and cause much more suffering. The fallacy is apparent to all.

Mr. A. Addams, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Prison Commissioner paid us a pleasant call this week. He is altogether competent and has always been a consistent Democrat. He will be remembered as clerk of the Court of Appeals after the death of Longmoor, and he deserves much credit for turning the fees of said office over to Mr. Longmoor's widow, he only receiving salary as deputy. He married in Lincoln and will probably get the support of this district, which would give him a good prospect for the nomination.

Much has been said about education in our State, and the means are provided by a law that enables Fiscal courts to levy a tax of 20 cents on each $100, in rural districts having no graded school, which can be supplemented by an additional tax of 25 cents on each one hundred dollars. The truth is attendance at school is irregular on account of indifference of parents. What we need is the enforcement of the law referred to and the enactment of a law compelling attendance at the schools. This is for the public welfare.

We appeal to all Democrats to adhere to party organization. We do this, not because there is any immediate danger of breaking ranks, but because the best time to prepare for war is in times of peace. We know how high prejudice runs and how many things can be brought to bear to create disaffection. Organization is seen in nature. System governs the planets, as they revolve through the immensity of space; the march of the army is by organization; commerce is governed by confidence in those who take part in it. A democrat has no more right to vote against the nominee than a soldier has to desert the army. He is sacredly obligated, if he takes part in the nomination.

The Courier Journal frets and raves over the successful fight that is being made against liquor, and goes so far as to use vile names and offer fallacious arguments against the Anti-saloon league. It opposes the work of the preachers, in that cause, to prevent the unity of church and State, when no such thing is contemplated. We need the high grade of citizenship, in the church, to insure good government. A preacher should be allowed to vote and urge the enactment of laws for the good of the public. The command, to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, only meant to pay tax or tribute for public expense. It did not mean to allow an evil that gives to Caesar the souls of our men, their earnings, and the tears and sighs of our women. The people will stop the manufacture and sale of liquor, and this can be done without confiscating property.

The subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Judiciary has, by a vote of 3 to 2, decided to bring in a report that President Roosevelt acted without authority in consenting to the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation. The report severely criticises the President for directing the Attorney General not to institute prosecutions under the anti-trust act.

The State Board of Prison Commissioners came out in a communication to the Governor requesting him to have made at once a full and speedy investigation of the State penitentiaries. They say in their communication that they are tired of the recent criticisms that have been heaped upon them in the management of the State prisons and that they especially court a thorough investigation.

The Federal grand jury in Washington returned indictments against the Press Publishing Company, of New York, and Joseph Pulitzer, Caleb N. Van Hamm and Robert H. Lyman, editors of that paper, and the owners of the Indianapolis News, De-lavan Smith and Charles R. Williams, charging libel in publications in connection with the purchase of the Panama Canal.

Robin J. Cooper was the first witness introduced for the defense at Nashville in the case of the men charged with the murder of former Senator Edward W. Carmack. Cooper was on the stand all day. He declared that Carmack fired the first two shots. His part in the tragedy, he said, came about through his efforts to keep his father, Col. D. B. Cooper, out of trouble. The testimony of others indicates that Carmack was suddenly approached, abused and shot before he could defend himself, and that a conspiracy was formed to murder him.

For The Public Good.

Every citizen of Lancaster ought to be interested in the proposition to erect a new school building. Every one should give the subject a fair hearing whether he favor such an action or not. For my part, with all the pleasure which I might take in an imposing, well equipped building, standing upon our campus, which cannot be surpassed in beauty, I should not be in favor of this expense if I were not confident that every man, woman and child in Lancaster and Garrard county would be benefited either directly or indirectly. Of course, my chief interest is for the welfare of those whose lives I am trying to help shape, and for whom I am in a measure eternally responsible. The good of the public ought to be the first consideration in every plan for the school; in selecting teachers, in enforcing regulations, in equipping libraries and laboratories, as well as in building and furnishing a house. Most of childhood is spent in the school room. How can love for one's children be better shown than by making this "other home" as comfortable and attractive as possible. Unconsciously, children will measure the parents' interest in, and estimation of, an education by sacrifices which are made in order to give the child an education. How readily the pupil responds to a sacrifice of this kind is fully attested by the intense application of nearly all those pupils who come from homes where mothers make wear the faded dress, another winter and fathers toil earlier and later that their children may stay in school. So, a sacrifice on the part of those upon whom the burden of a new building would fall heaviest would meet with a corresponding determination on the part of the pupils to be worthy. Many children who now despise school would learn to love a place made bright and cheerful for them. Habits of order and system would be established in their lives, a love of the beautiful would grow up within them, just as naturally as pure speech graces the lips of one who never hears any other.

But, what is invested for the good of our children cannot truly be said to be a sacrifice. What would we not do for them? Should we, in our deep interest for them, put upon ourselves the full amount allowed by law—and many of our neighboring towns are doing this—the increased tax would be very little, only one fourth of one per cent. But not that much in need. One tenth of one per cent can be made sufficient for present demands; so that the man who now pays fifty dollars tax would have to pay only two dollars and fifty cents more. To the taxpayer who has no child to educate this small increase might, at first thought, seem somewhat unjust. But if the fact of an educated citizenship, a wiser, better happier people with whom to live, seem not a sufficient compensation, let him remember that criminal prosecutions for which he is taxed decrease in cost as educational facilities increase, and that, too, in a ratio that, leaves a balance to the credit of education.

But money expended for a public school building is not really TAXATION. It is but an investment. The building is always the property of those who paid for it. And the money which the reluctant tax payer hands over is only invested for him, in a way which benefits every man in his county. Rear estate in Bowling Green, Ky. advanced a few days ago more than fifty per cent in that section contiguous to the grounds which the new Normal school was expected to occupy. Thirty thousand dollars invested in a High School building in Lancaster will increase the value of real estate within the school district from three to five times the cost of such a building.

Some of us who have been studying the question of a new building believe that arrangements can be made for its erection without a cent additional taxation, and the course of study kept up to its present standard. However, we should like to hear about two thousand five hundred people who live in Lancaster say with one accord: "We will build though our rate of taxation should be slightly increased, and we will plan to have all things in readiness for September 1910".

Very truly,
D. W. Bridges,
Principal Lancaster Graded School.

The Lexington horse sale last week was one of the largest ever held in Kentucky. Among some of the sales are the following: W. B. and S. M.
Denny sold a mare that had a mark of 2:12 for $200; Lawrence Jones, of Louisville, sold a 4 year old stallion, by Bourbon King, to Richmond parties, for $1,535, which was the highest price stallion sold. Look out for Bob Walker at the Lancaster Fair.

In another article in this issue is shown what good prices are gotten for "Peavine" horses, and we wish to say that Mr. Q. Shumate, of Newburn, Tenn., a Record subscriber, four and one half years ago bought Lou Peavine No. 3072, and her suckling colt, from M. F. Arbuckle, for $335. Since that time, according to a letter from Mr. Shumate, he has realized in sales, from this mare $2,300 and still has her left, safely in foal, and now only twelve years old. Nothing pays better than handling this kind of stock.

A Madison county farmer has taken up the raising of mule-hoofed hogs.
In appearance they would be taken for our Poland-China breed, but the hoof is not split, like the common hog, but is solid like the hoof of a mule.
They are raised at Redwig, Indiana, where a breeder makes a specialty of this breed and it is claimed that they are proof against hog cholera. It is claimed that they can be put in where other hogs have the cholera, and they will not take it. This breed of hogs originated in the Cumberland mountains of eastern Kentucky and Tennessee.—Interior Journal.

The raising and handling of tobacco in Garrard County has grown to be a prodigious industry and during the coming season the cultivation of the weed will even reach larger proportions. Many new tobacco barns are soon to be erected, and this business alone gives employment to a large number of carpenters and other workmen. Nine hundred and sixty thousand pounds of tobacco have been recently shipped from Lancaster, two hundred thousand pounds from Hyattsville, and four hundred thousand from Paint Lick, all going to the Louisville market, except the latter.

A dairy convention will be held at the College of Agriculture, State University, on March 12 and 13, when the Kentucky Dairy Cattle Club and the Kentucky Jersey Cattle Club will hold their annual meetings.

Prof. A. L. Haecker, probably the leading authority on dairy cattle feeding, has agreed to come and address the dairymen. He will also score and discuss the relative merits of Jersey and Holstein cows. Prof. C. B. Lane, acting Chief Dairy Division, Washington, D. C., will be there to discuss his score card for dairies, and to assist with the milk and butter scoring coach Arthur French, of Lebanon, Ohio, has been asked to come and talk to the dairymen on the production of high grade milk. Several Kentucky dairymen will appear on the program. An unpretentious but substantial banquet will be given during the first evening, and several important addresses will be given after the supper.

On Saturday morning a number of addresses will be given by Kentucky dairymen. A milk and butter contest will be arranged. Samples of market milk, certified milk, creamery butter and dairy butter will be examined and judged.

Every dairymen in Kentucky is expected to be present at the convention. Whether he be a member of either club.—Kentucky Farmer.

The easiest money picked up on the farm is eggs, and of all farm products they are the quickest turned into money, says the Equity Farm Journal.

To Stock Men

The Record is better prepared than ever to get up a neat Jack or Horse card, with or without the picture of your animal.

ALSO MONUMENTS.
Ebb Bentley, Cartersville, Ky.

On most farms they are carefully handled, but to get the most money out of them they must be handled with care. Note the range in price on the Eastern city markets and the difference in price is just the difference in handling.

To command the highest price the eggs must be spotlessly clean and newly laid. To get a uniform grade of eggs you should weed out of your flock of hens all old and sickly, undersized and scrubby stock, and change your roosters each year. To harden the shell so the eggs will ship well, the fowls should be fed oyster shells occasionally, or fed bran mash two or three times each week.

It matters not how good a range your flock has, they should be fed grain at least once each day to give the eggs a strong body. The nests should be kept clean and the eggs gathered each day. Do not keep them in damp spring houses or musty cellars or hot kitchens. Keep them in a cool room and cover them so that they will not get fly-specked or dust on them. The soiled eggs should be cleaned with a dry cloth. Do not wash them. A washed egg quickly spoils and breaks in shipping. Market them at least twice each week.

A serum which is an absolute and complete cure and preventive of hog cholera has been undergoing tests at the State University for the past four months, and every way proven satisfactory. The tests have demonstrated beyond all doubt that the greatest enemy of the Kentucky hog raiser has at last been overcome. Commissioner Rankin had hoped that the serum could be produced at a figure that would enable him, through his department, to supply the hog raisers of Kentucky with it without cost, whenever the dreaded cholera should make its appearance among their herds of swine. He found, however, that as yet the method of manufacturing it has not been worked to a basis of economy where it can be obtained at low enough figure to come within the funds which are allowed his department for such work, and so, until it can be produced cheap enough, for the State Department to be enabled to supply it to the farmers, they can obtain it at cost price from the Experiment Station. Mr. Rankin says that the total expenses of inoculating a herd of hogs is about thirty cents per hog, which, he believes, considering the terrific loss caused by cholera when it makes its appearance, is cheap enough for every hog raiser to use.
Commissioner Rankin looked carefully into every test which has been made of the efficiency of this serum, and says that there is no doubt of its effectiveness.

The agricultural press has done much for the farmers' good and towards placing them and their calling on the high pedestal that rightfully belongs to them. They have sought recognition for the farmer that has been long in coming to him, but the world has seen a new and great light and is beginning to realize that the strongest asset of the nation is the farmer and his products. The agricultural papers have fought the farmer's fight and have brought recognition to the greatest calling in the world. They have been instrumental in securing legislation on pure food, pure seeds, exorbitant rates, rural free delivery, lower express rates, protection of forests from fire and insects, quarantine of diseased cattle, better rules for the shipment of cattle, the pooling of crops for fair and equitable prices and many other laws that are on the statute books.

Not to have a farm paper in your home means that you will be behind the times and will not know what is being done for you. If you are not a subscriber to some farm paper, become one at once and keep posted on your calling.—Kentucky Farmer.

The Central Record will give you a club rate with any farm paper. Write this office for information.

The Kentucky Farmer proposes to help distribute the seed of pure Boone county white and of pure Johnson county white corn in Kentucky and adjoining States. We have no corn for sale, but, realizing the great benefits that would come to the farmers of the State if they would but take greater care in the selection of and the varieties of corn they plant, we have purchased some of each of these varieties and propose to give it to those who get us a subscriber to The Kentucky Farmer.

A pound will plant an eighth of an acre, and should provide ample seed next year for the average farmer's entire crop. You can get a pound of either of these corns for each dollar in subscriptions sent this paper. This, we believe, will be an accommodation to some of our readers, since it is sometimes difficult to get a small quantity of high-grade seed for a foundation. The pleasure you get, to say nothing of the profit, out of growing this plant of corn, and knowing you will have a supply of good seed for next year, will more than compensate you for the trouble in securing a subscription to a paper ever interested in your welfare. The records of these two corns at the recent corn shows should convince any one of their merits over common seed corn. Get your neighbors' subscriptions and get yourself some of the best seed corn on earth.

Revolts At Cold Steel.
"Your only hope," said three doctors to Mrs. M. E. Fisher, Detroit, Mich., suffering from severe rectal trouble, lies in an operation. "Then I used Dr. King's New Life Pills," she writes, "until wholly cured." They tion, Headache, 25c. at R. E. McRoberts.

Suffocated in His Hat.
"Fell into his hat and suffocated." This is the indorsement on the death certificate of Alfred Parlow, who was found dead by the roadside in North Rahway, Mass., by a neighbor. The man was on his way to his home, and tripped and fell. His derby hat slipped down over his eyes, and his face was forced into it. The man never recovered sufficiently to extricate himself, dying of suffocation.

Soldier Buks Death Plot.
It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Texas, that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me, in spite of all remedies, for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 175 pounds." For severe colds, obstinate Coughs, Hemorrhages, Asthma, and to prevent Pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. E. Mc-Roberts.

A BAPTIST ELDER

Restored to Health by Vinol
"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffering from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength and am now feeling unusually well." Henry Cunningham, Elder Baptist Church, Kingston, N. C.

Vinol is not a patent medicine—but a preparation composed of the medicinal elements of cod livers, combined with a tonic iron and wine. Vinol creates a hearty appetite, tones up the organs of digestion and makes rich, red blood.
In this natural manner, Vinol creates strength for the run-down, overworked and debilitated, and for delicate children and old people. For chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis Vinol is unexcelled.

All such persons in this vicinity are asked to try Vinol on our offer to refund their money if it fails to give satisfaction.
